MANY DEMANDS ON ILLINOIS TREASURY

Bills Involving Appropriations Approaching Seven Million Dollars Have Been Introduced.

TOTAL MAY BE $20,000,000.

Women Are Behind Several Sentimental Enterprises Requiring the Outlay of Many Thousands.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. Springfield, Ill., Feb. 8.-Many are the claims upon the shik is in the State pocketbook. Biennially, the people, who fill this pocketbook, send their r presentatives to egislate, and one of the legislator's duties is to draw priperly upon the public purse. Aside from the ising as to wantle: they hiaw sensibly, the mere itemized list of ex-canditures—or concemplated expe diurs, once in idinois, the season of 19st is yet in since in idinois, the seasion of 1853 is yet in embryo—is a thing of inerist. This year in S, ringhed the total of expendatures projosed in blis, will run far above any personas mark. Last session in round numbers, the sum orawn from the State treusury by appropriation was $3.500,000. It is estimated that bills will be introduced this seed in calling for $20.50.0. No doubt, the snaving and cusing always characteristic of an "oa" political year, when the party in tower, forse in he coming gubernatorial and national campaginwishes to make a record before the viters, will reduce the aggregate to something like. will reduce the aggregate to so nething like $14.0 0.00, an amount, however, not to be

For the Eastern Illinois State Normal School For the relief of Charles Hatfield.....

A persual of the above will disclose the activity of workers in behalf of the three streat divisions of the population, the men, the women, and the children. And there is the routine, or the "necessary business," and there is the purely sentimental.

The first item comes from the women. It was the ladies who induced Mr. Brundage to bring up the measure the first day of the session-House bill, No. 2, introduced January 14. It was preceded only by the two Important civil service bills, the one drafted by the Governor, and the other by Sherman and the Chicago Civic Federation. The Legislature in 1859 appropriated $5,000 to place a statue of Frances E. Williard in the Statuary Hall at Washington, D. C. but the commissioners appointed could not meet the conditious before the expiration of the fiscal quarter after the adjournment of the Legislature and the appropriation lapsed back into the treasury.

"Therefore," the preamble to the bill reads, "in order to immoralize so far as the same may be done in marble the life of Frances E. Willard, and to show all nations how exalted a sphere woman occupies in the State, the following law is hereby enacted: (etc.)."

OLD FORT MASSAC The succeeding three items are among the necessities, then comes one of the sentimental class, backed mostly by the women, it proposes purchasing old Fort Massac and surrounding ground, and establishing there a State park. Fort Massac dates to

It preposes purchasing old Fort Massac and surrounding ground, and establishing there a State park. Fort Massac dates to the Revolutionary War, and many a tale of Indian and British warfare is attached to it. It is in the southern section of the State and borders on the Ohio River and is owned by Reed Green, a prominent clizen of Massac County. The bill proviles that the regent of the Illinois Daughters of the Revolution and two members of the same organization be appointed a commission to purchase the property on behalf of the State and transform it into a park.

Following down the list, two appropriations are reached, involving the creation of two new and important State charitable institutions a sanitarium for consumptives, and a colony for epileptics. Both call for large sums but are part of the charitable institutions supported by all the large States, and are expected to go through.

Men are backing two of the sentimental items which appear. The one provides $15,000 for the erection of a statue to Richard Yates, war Governor of Illinois and father of the present Governor. The second would commemorate the services of the Illinois solders at the Battle of Vicksburg, by marking the position of each regiment and battery on the battlefield.

The remainder are of the usual nature, save one, the smallest of all, $1,000 for Charles Hatfield. He was a member of Troop B. First Cavalry, Illinois National Gaard, and in August, 1899, while executing an order at Camp Lincoln, Springfield, was thrown form his horse, while making a charge against artiflery. He was permanently injured, and now the Legislature is asked to award him the $1,000.

The effect of Mgr. It is reported that the Pope has always supported this solution.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Lincoln, III., Feb. 8.-The old relie which has zerved as the Logan County Courthouse for nearly a half century will give Plans prepared by Architect J. M. Deal, were approved by the Board of Supervisors. February 4, and will be ready soon for the entractors.

The new building will be of stone, three stories in height, with a tile roof. Ample room and vaults will be provided for the county officials and their work, and two sarge courtrooms will care for the judicial work.

The old Courthouse, now about to be torn down, was built in 155 and has many nustoric connections. The town of Lincoln was founded in 1833 by John D. Gillett unfterwards the cattle king of Illinois, Robert B. Latham (afterwards Colonel of the One Hundred and Sixth Illinois Infantry), and Virgit Hitchcock. They named the 1898. Virgii Hitchcock. At that time it carried by an overwhelming vote.

Logan County has no bonded lebt and wants none, so the county voted to pay each for the building, and will raise the money by adding $0,30 to the taxes for each of the next three years. This will add about 17 cents per acre to the tax.

After the crection of the Courthouse Mr. Lincoln often visited it and many other prominent illinoisans have spent much time within its walls.

"Uncle Dick" Ogleshy was a regular visitor at convention there, and few pointicians of any standing have falled to visit it at some time.

Jophin, Mo., Feb. 8.—The assay basis price of zinc ore continues strong at $22 to $33 of zinc ore continues sirong at $22 to $15 per ton for 60-per-cent zinc, but with no sales of fancy lots. The last week the lighest price was only $25.50 per ton. Ordinarily such small supments of zinc as have left the district every week of this year would man a rapidly increasing reserve stock, but this is not true at this time, because the weekly output is very small, and this is caused by a shortage of coal that is keeping a part of the mines ide all of the time. The reserve, however, is slowly increasing in quantity. Purchasing agents cannot move the zinc ore nearly as rapidly as desired, two of the reads entering the field being able to suppy only one-half the cars asked for several weeks. The principal cause of the restricted output arises from a lack of fuel, and there seems no probability that the situation will be refleved soon, although coal dealers are profuse in promises.

The second 500-ton shipment of zinc ore from the Jop, in district, bound for Aniwerp, is due to leave the port of Galveston tomorrow, completting airrangements between the Missouri and Kansas zluc Miners' Association and Frank Nicholson, who had charge of the exportation.

Betore exportation was begun the assay basis price for zinc was $25 per ton, and the ore exportation was begun the assay basis price for zinc was $25 per ton, and the ore exportation for the inability to secure cars for loading out the ore the fuel scarcity has been benencial in forcing a limit to the output. The car stringency is an important factor in the local situation when it is understood that there are about 4,000 tons of one purchas, d, and some of it paid for, that cannot be maved.

Three huyers in the field for lead keep the market price of this mineral at the satisfactory point of $1 per ton. A year sage lead sold at $43.50, per ton and zinc at $35.50, top price. The shipment of zinc was larger that week than last week by $62.21, pounds, per ton for 60-per-cent zinc, but with no sales of fancy lots. The last week the

GIRL STUDENTS MIX FIGHTING WITH PLAY

Basket Ball Contest Develops Hair Pulling and Singging Abilities of Rival Teams.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Derby, Conn., Feb. 8.-Girls's teams from the Waterbury High School and the Boardman Training High School of New Haven met in the Anderson gymnasium in New Haven yesterday, ostensibly for a game of agreed that they had witnessed a prize fight without rules, a definition from which not one of the exhausted feminine players was ready to dissent. There was had blood before the game, be cause the Waterbury girls insisted upon the privilege of interference, a style of play which the local team had always barred.

privilege of interference, a style of play which the local team had always barred. At last it was agreed that the first half should be played without and the second half with interference.

There was little out of the ordinary in the first half, which ended with the score 10 to 6 in New Haven's favor, but the second half from the call of time was marked by the roughest tactics ever witnessed at a basket-ball contest in this State.

The girls slugged each other in the face, pulled hair and dresses, tripped and threw one another to the floor and lost all control of themselves. Paces were scratched, eyes damaged and dresses torn, with the most reckless disregard of propriety and fair play, and the pretty young girls were soon transformed into sorry looking spectacles.

Coaches and spectators tried to stop the fight, but they might as well have taiked to the winds. The girls were oblivious to all clean of the control of the struckless. Time was sounded before it was up and the opposing amazons, limp as they were, had to be almost dragged apart.

The Waterbury girls had excelled as sluglimp as they were, had to be almost dragged apart.

The Waterbury giris had excelled as sluggers, for the score was 12 to 10 in their favor. At the end of the game the word was passed to hush it up, as it was feared that the faculty of the two schools would put a stop to basket-ball if the circumstances became known.

Miss Lewis Austin and Miss Viola Griffin, members of the New Haven team, said they greatly deplored the sugging match the game had resolved itself into, but that the Waterbury girls had begun the rough work and they had been forced to meet them half way in self-defense.

The Waterbury girls had a similar excuse to offer. They said that the New Haven players had mistaken their interference for slugging, and that this error had been the cause of all going further than they intended. Their awollen faces showed that their victory had been hard earned. Their coach said that the conduct of the teams had been disgraceful.

EFFORT TO FORCE FINS INTO RUSSIAN ARMY.

Invests Governor With Inlim ited Powers for Completing the

St. Petersburg, Feb. 8.-In the recent decree in which the Czar ordered severe diswho failed to comp.y with their military obligations in 1902, the Emperor invests General Bobriokoff, the Governor of Finland, with unlimited powers for completing a Finnish battalion. The public interprets this step as giving General Bobrickoff authority to accept per-sons who fall below the medical and physons who fall below the medical and physical requirements.

The fact that the 280 men required for this battalion were not secured from 11.500 obedient recruits, apparently confirms previous assertions that only these Finns who are nearly certain of rejection or have legal exemption from service offered themselves.

The stubbornness of the resistance of the Finlanders is further illustrated by the Government's inability to find postal officers willing to sanction the opening of letters.

The order to open suspicious mail and confiscate contraband matter was prepared last summer. The honored old Postmaster General has resigned rather than sign the order.
